Rhythm & Rage

Westview holds its first in-school dance in 5 years!

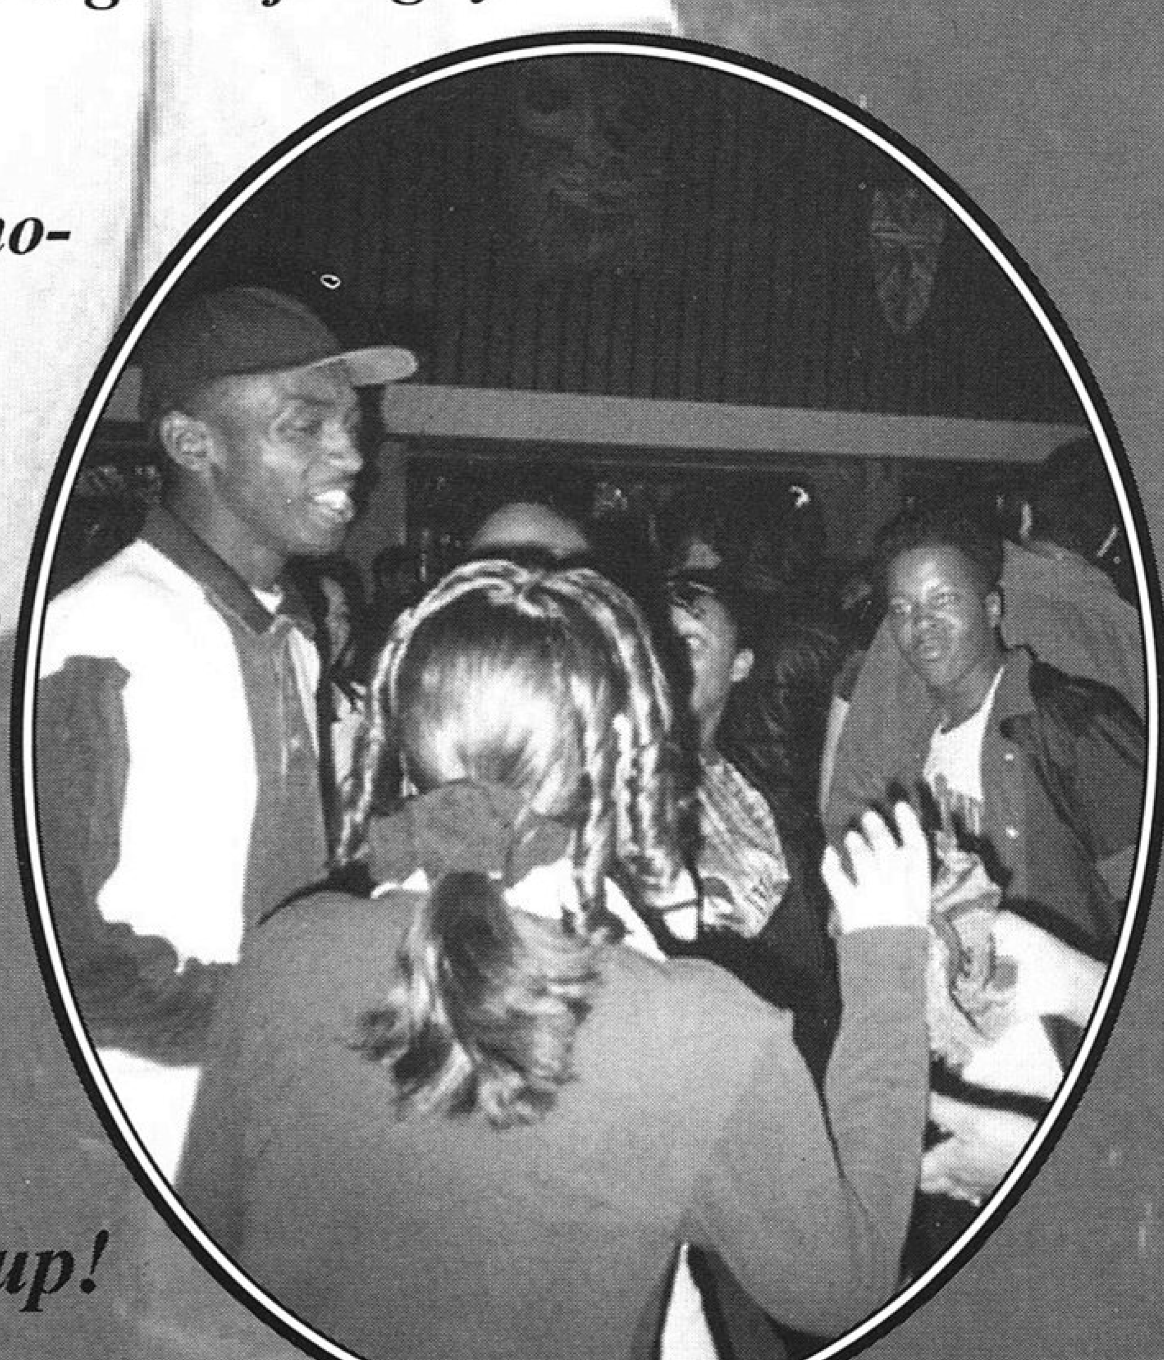

It wouldn't suffice to say they just got it done. Finally in the course of five years, they proved full devotion to their accomplishment. They are your student council members and do you know what they did? They successfully made happen Westview's first in half a decade. That's right, this year's dance "got arranged!"

It wasn't enough to merely advertise and make stale announcements. Sanjay your esteemed treasurer, who is implausible to fail in the confidence of his election, along with secretary of council Woodrow, they pressed, they pursued, they were waiting in your lockers to sell you tickets and they even had scouts in your face. Not to mention the spectacular ticket design by Kit that help to generate ticket sales. Monica and Teca your most friendly social convenyor and diligent president focused to have heeded announcements and attention grabbing posters. Their efforts succeeded in student responses. And a very worthy report for the vice-president who you can always count on - Usman's delightfulness as he toiled and sacrificed his lunch hour to rack in the sales proved to be beneficial.

So how did the dance prevail after the hardship? The place was right in our own café. While all the students were wishy washy about the event, a few very helpful students prepared the café to help dance goers when they bust a move. The dance began at two o'clock and finished at seven o'clock. I can tell you and even rave about the dance but I won't, let these students tell you. Here are some comments from the girls: "I danced all day and had a lot of fun." "It was pretty good, I wasn't disappointed." Remarks from males, well read for yourself: "It was wicked still." "We should have more dances." "It was good, lots of dancing went on." Some administrator's comments include: "That was a great job guys. "One of the most successful dances I'm seen in ages."

Westview's dance if I didn't make it clear was a tremendous memorable success. Student council deserves a pat on the back but it was probably obvious from the smiles on student's faces after the smashing event. If you're just reading about this, that's too bad. It was a night to remember and one that will never be forgotten in a while.

Class of '96 Valedictorian

Sanjay Agnihotri

His speech:

Ms. Twohig, Trustee - Ms. Stephanie Payne, Superintendent - Ms. Harriet Wagman, good evening. I would like to thank staff, parents, and the graduating students of 1995 - 1996 for attending tonight's auspicious occasion. Tonight's event is the culmination of the arduous work that we have put forth in all the years we have attended Westview, some more than others.

For many of you here, this year will be the last time you will hand in an English essay to Mr. Pugh, a balance sheet to Mr. Jones, a lab report to Mr. Neil, a math assignment to Mr. Fahie, and probably, twenty dollars to one of the vice principals. I would like to congratulate all of you here for this great accomplishment. We have grown in so many ways during our stay here; from mischievous and innocent niner's, we have become mature and confident adults. We shall never forget the memories, hardships, experiences, sorrows, and laughter that we have all shared. At this time, I would like to express gratitude to the Student Council of 1995/96 for making this year undoubtedly the most memorable one of all. I know the school spirit that they have instilled in this school will continue to grow, and further unite all of us. On behalf of Kit, Manish and myself, I would also like to thank Mr. Mayeda for that little special something. I would include the other VP's, but they don't have a convertible stang like he does.

Westview Centennial Secondary School is perhaps the most multi-cultural and diverse school in the world. It was here that we had the opportunity to encounter, and open our hearts to the various types of cultures and ethnic backgrounds present at Westview. We have had the privilege to get to know one another and understand what the other is feeling. Though we may have had our differences at times, like many relationships, I can honestly say that we were very much like a family.

However, Westview must begin to support those students who are not here with us tonight because they were not encouraged to reach this point in their life. Those students, that were not able to figure out who they really were because they were always trying to assimilate, or the literature they were reading in the school did not represent their culture. I am proud to see however, that Westview is beginning to recognize this problem, and is making progress in the right direction. We as caring adults, teachers, and parents must address this issue, so that, each student who is, and will be attending Westview, can have the chance to say that they crossed this very stage and received their high school diploma.

This graduation and diploma that we will receive tonight signifies our sweat, hard work, determination, confidence, aspirations, and of course, our success. As we move on with our lives, some of us off to the world of work, some continuing with our education, we will never forget the things we were taught in this building. Life will bring many obstacles our way. However, I am confident that each and every one of us will handle all of them with the greatest of ease. We all have family and friends who have been extremely influential and helpful in our lives, and I know that they will continue to be there for us when we need them.

At this time, I would like to recognize my parents, for without them I would not be standing here before you. They have supported and motivated me over the years to try to do my very best in any task that I may take up. These two caring people have nurtured, cared and loved me everyday of my life. Mom, Dad thank you for everything you have done and will continue to do for me.

I would like to also thank friends, family, loved ones, teachers, and fellow students for making this voyage at high school, a spectacular one. This celebration marks not the end, but the beginning of a new era that will bring endless possibilities, mysteries, challenges, pleasures, and change into our lives. This is why we call it commencement. We may have to confront much of this on our own, but do not forget, this school has given us the means and the tools to handle any situation that will come before us.

The world is dramatically changing and people everywhere are starting to integrate and interact with people of different ethnic backgrounds. The city of Toronto is on the cutting edge of that diversity because of its multi-culturalism. So, it can be said that Westview, too, is on the cutting edge because of the enriching culture that it possesses. It has prepared us better than any other school could ever dream of because we have been exposed to all sorts of cultures, history, heritage, and people from around the world. These years at Westview have been a great learning experience that we will cherish and use as we move into the real world.

I would like to wish all of you success and the best of luck in all your future endeavors.

Thank you.

WESTVIEW

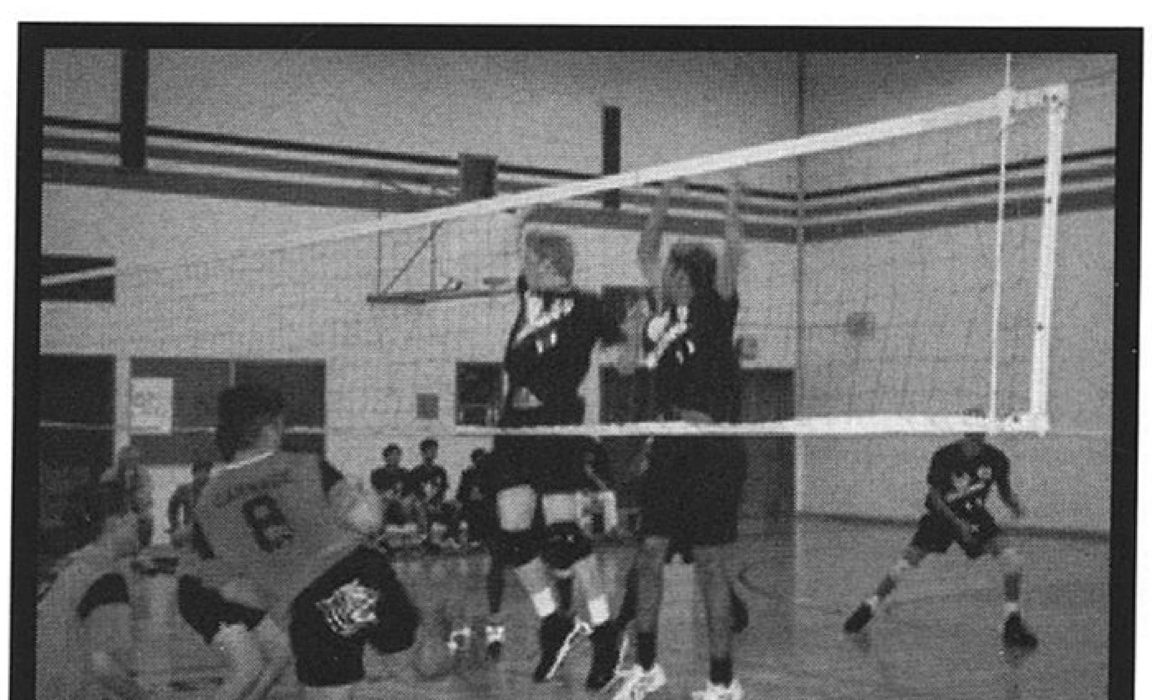

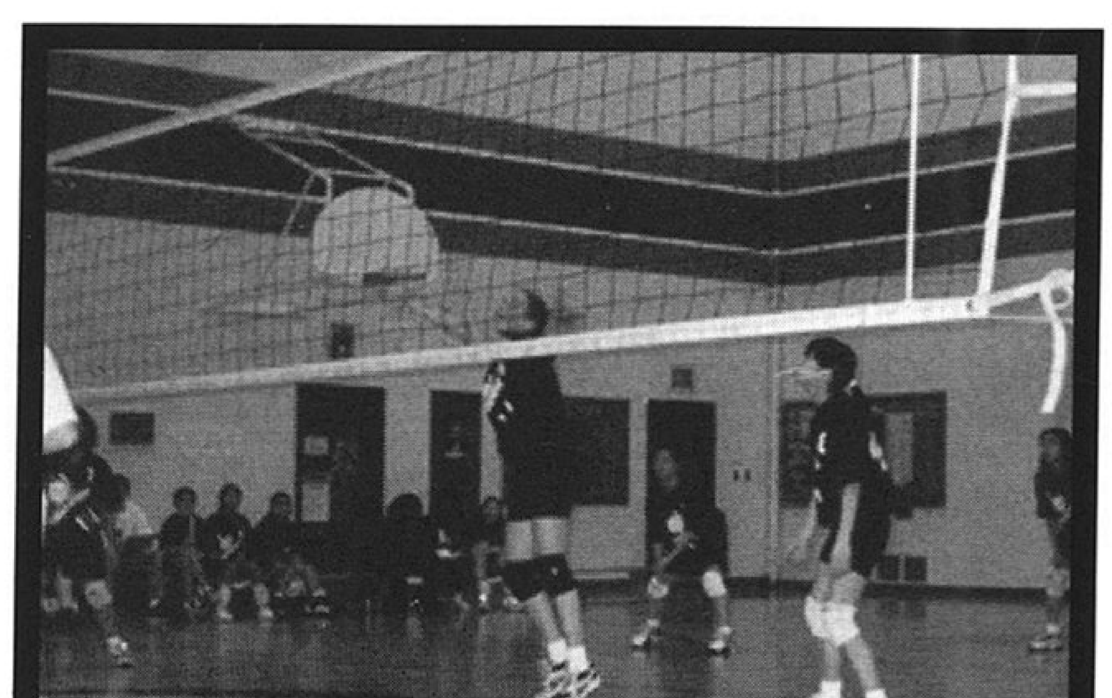

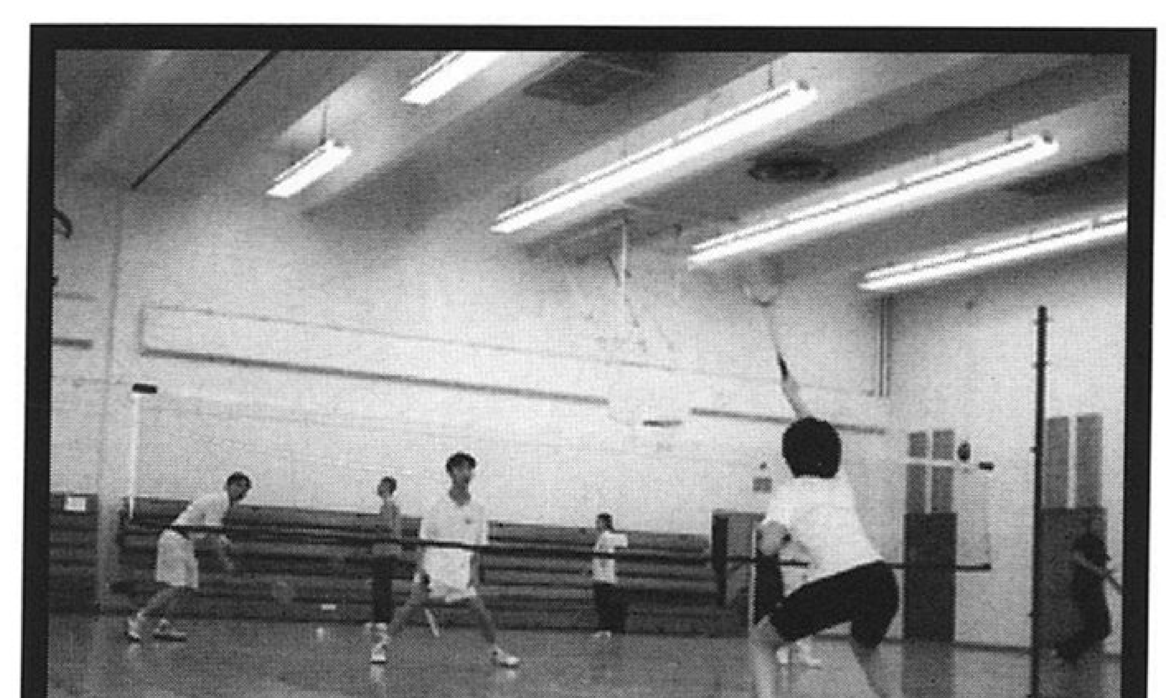

ATHLETICS

GIRLS FIELD HOCKEY

After a year's rest, the Westview's Girls Field Hockey team came back to show their stuff. New comers and former players from the past, united and formed a new and improved team.

"No one wanted to lose, it was our game, so we all worked together every morning to guarantee a winning season."

The girls made it to the semi-finals where the season came to an end with an unfortunate loss to the number one ranked Don Mills team by a score of 5 - 1.

Team members would like to thank Ms. Dindial and Mr. Mohr for their patience and confidence in the team.

We'll see you next October girls!

Team Members:

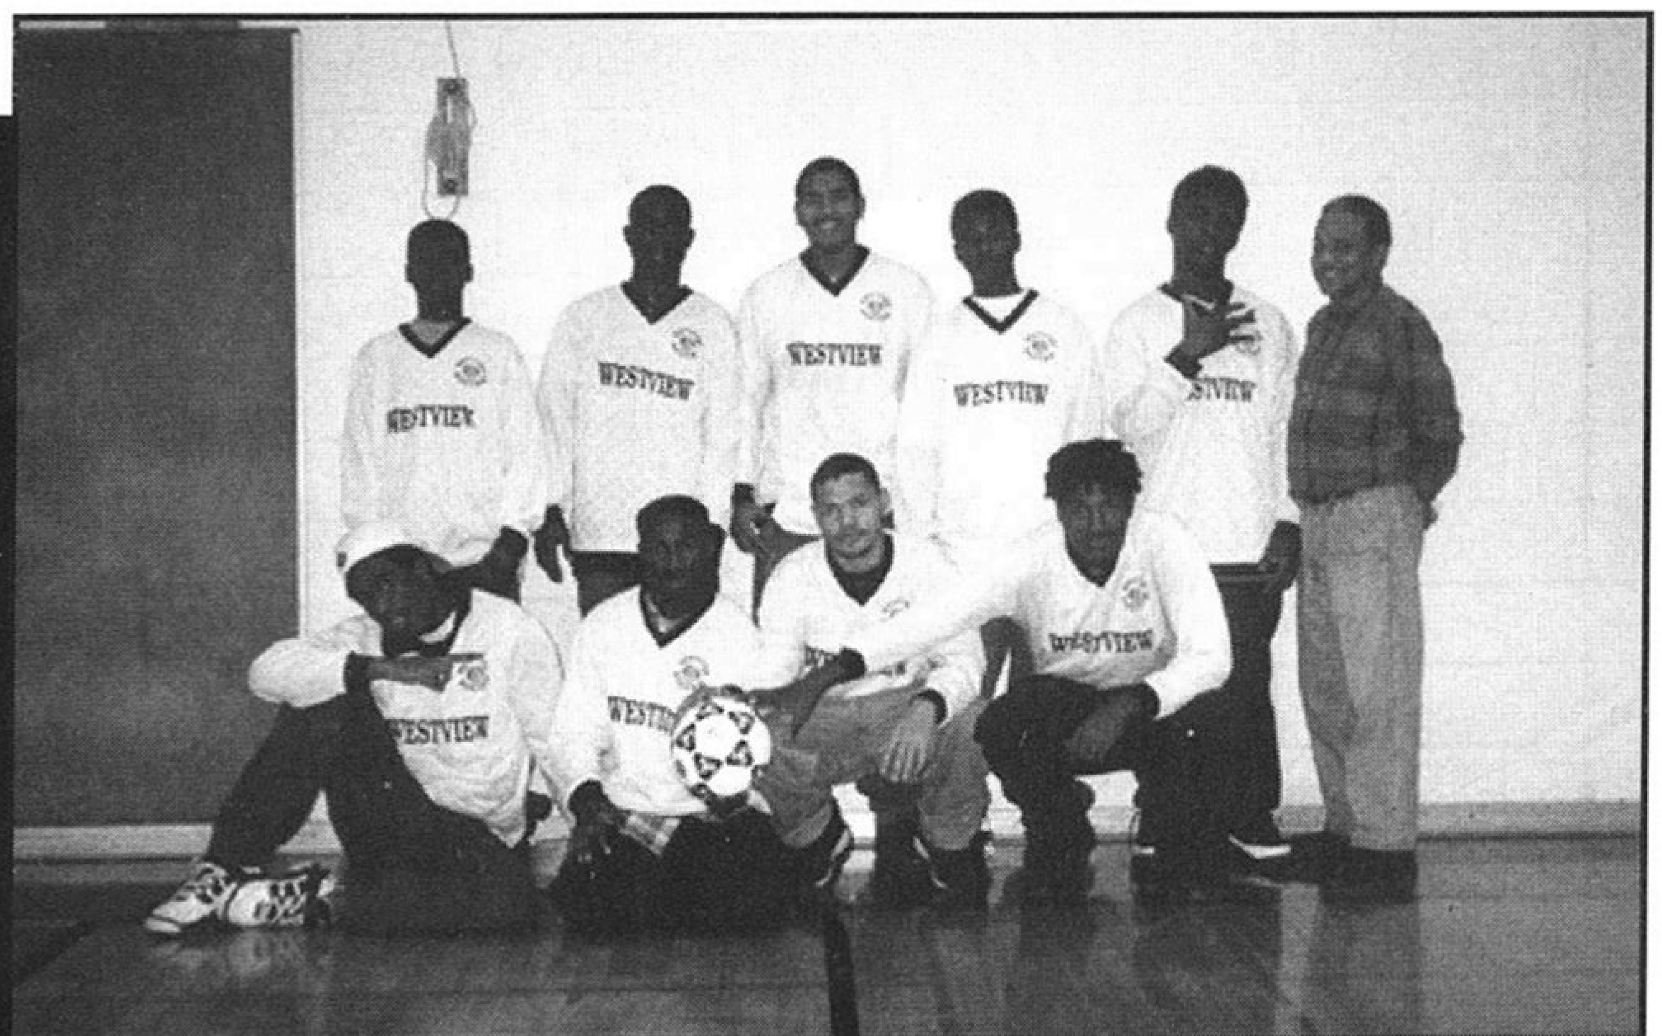

Coach: Mr. Mohr
Assistant Coaches: Ms. Dindial & Mr. Klaver

Players: Shade Adeboruwa, Shelly Agnihotri, Nicolette Lain, Lily Mac, Monika Badwal, Deepak Bisla, Barbi McDowell, Joy Ngo, Saronn Pov, Anna Ramirez, Renee Shaw, Stephanie Small, Chanden Soukchamroeun, Anna Truong.

SENIOR BOYS SOCCER

The Senior Boys Soccer team had another successful season last fall. The team did well through out the competition and lost only two games. We had an excellent all round team but we failed to utilize our scoring opportunities effectively. Because of this, many of our games ended in ties and therefore, frustrated some of our defence who thought they could have made better use of their skills in the forward position.

All the players are to be commended for their gallant effort; however, special mentions goes to: Abubakar Suleiman, Fahad Ahmad, and Ferris Gonez - whose consistency and effort made the team one of the best in North York.

Team Members:

Coach: Mr. Jones

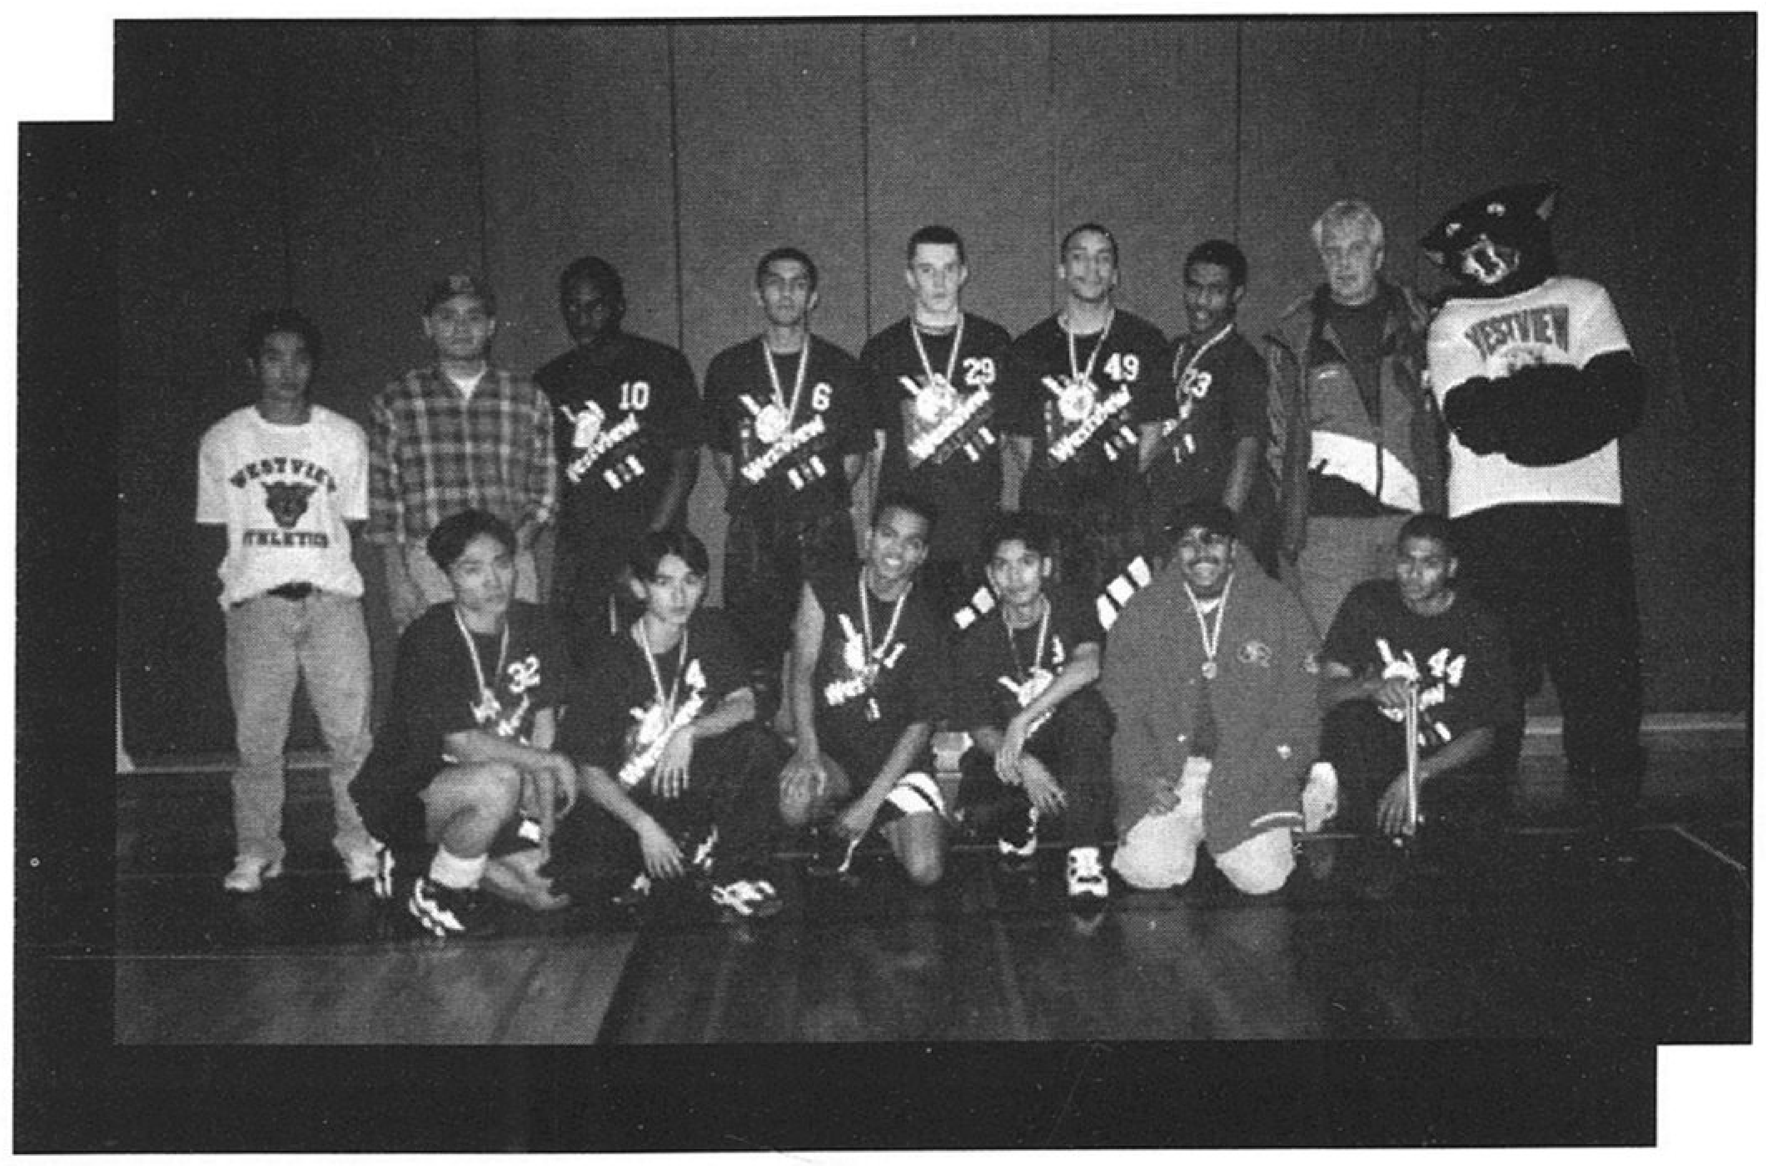

Players: Eric Adjei, Prince Adom, Charles Adu-Gyamfi, Fahad Ahmad, Edmond Anning, Prince Anning, Phillip Adu-Boateng, George Bernards, Emmanuel Baodu-Tuum, Andrew Gayle, Renferris Gonez, Garfield Williams, Gowseelan Kanagaratnam, Richard McIntosh, Jones Okyere, Alton Outar, Fidel Ramirez, Floyd Reynolds, Kojo Sarpong, Abubakar Suleman, Delroy Sybliss, Metehan Tuncer.

SENIOR BOYS VOLLEYBALL

This was an exciting year for the Senior Wildcats. The boys had a very successful season overall, winning all but one of their league games.

The boys played very well at tournaments around North York including the Westview Invitational where they finished first with a two-set victory over C.W. Jeffery's in the final.

However, in the North York finals, the team was disappointed with its loss to the MacKenzie Lyons because a win would have certainly put them on a trip to OFSAA. In spite of this, the team would like to thank Head Coach Mr. Lorbergs and assistant coaches Sis and Tuong for all of their hard work. Good luck to the boys of the coming era.

Team Members:

Coaches: Mr. Lorbergs
Assisstant Coaches: Tuong Thai & Sis Phanthasomchit
Manager: Nanshawn Basant
Mascot: Cassius McGuire

Players: Kwame Balliston, Raymond Gil, Eddie Kirwan, Vickram Mangru, Darrell Mocchum, Quang Nguyen, Bona Sith, Derek Walker, Sokvor Vann, Sen Xaykongsa.

Left to right: Vickram Mangru, Derek Walker, Naresh Rajpat, Kit Truong, Khurram Awan, Ray Yusuf, Phoi Phoi Ngo. Absent: Nick Johnson.

Calling themselves the "Chicken Farmer's", this elite group of six showed that they were the best floor hockey team in the school by winning the championship.

During the regular season, the Chicken Farmers blew pass the competition winning each game by an average of seven goals. They continued their magnificent play by beating the Asian Huslter's by a score of 9 -1 in the semi-finals.

However, in the finals, the games were much closer. In a best of three series, the Chicken Farmers were able to beat the Lightning by a score of 3 - 2, and 2 -1 to win the school championship. Keep scoring boys!

JUNIOR GIRLS VOLLEYBALL

A dedicated group of young ladies had a very successful season. The team finished the regular season in second place in the West division, losing only one match to MacKenzie. Westview qualified for the Playoff round but were defeated in the Challenge round by Earl Haig, 17-15, 4-15, 15-10.

One of the highlights for the season was that four of Westview's team members were chosen to the first ever North York Girls Volleyball All Star team. They are: Team Captain Joy Ngo, Barbi McDowell, Jennifer Mac and Dorothy Pam.

Special thanks go to volunteer coaches Sokha Im and Chi Chau and also senior student helper, Derek Walker.

SENIOR GIRLS VOLLEYBALL

Another season has yet completed and the Senior Girls Volleyball team showed that they can still play even with all the new players.

In this rebuilding year, the Senior Girls Volleyball team finished a respectable 3rd in their pool. The third place finish qualified them to play in the quarter finals.

After a long and challenging battle, the wildcats were unfortunetly defeated by the top ranked William Lyon MacKenzie team.

The Arts and Literature

The cold water felt great. As I moved around in the tub, it left me with every satisfied feeling. But, all of a sudden, a very strong wave of electricity came charging through my body, causing it to tremble uncontrollably. My head started to shake up and down like a puppet' s. Terrified, I wanted it to stop. Trying desperately to turn around and find my baby brother and save him, I found I couldn't budge an inch. With all my strength I tried to force my hand free, but it was useless. They remained stuck to the tub's edge as if glued.

It was a very hot mid-summer day in Vietnam. Every year at this time people complain about the heat and the sun's rays burning their backs. Although there are awnings, not even they can shield a person from Vietnam's kind of heat. For a moment, I felt very sorry for the people who were working out in the open rice fields with no shade for them to hide under. Just acres of flat fields with the sun shining mercilessly down on them, as if it wanted to penetrate right through to their bones.

I was only six-years-old then, but a Vietnamese girl in Vietnam is expected to do a lot, even at that age. I had to help my parents cook, wash clothes, buy groceries, but my main duty was the care of my younger brother. I was held fully responsible for him.

Vietnamese parents prefer boys over girls and worry about their well-being more. A Vietnamese boy is highly-valued, especially if he's the first-born child, and usually doesn't have to do any housework.

My five-year-old baby brother had been pestering me to give him a bath. "Now! I want a bath now!", he had cried wriggling uncomfortably in his clothes, damp with sweat from the Vietnamese heat. At that moment he looked so cute with his pink-red cheeks.

"Oh! All right!" I said at last without hiding the annoyance in my voice.

"Take off your clothes!" I ordered, and was not surprised to see he was more than happy to do just that.

There was a well about three metres square located outside the house near the kitchen. My father had built the well the previous summer with a pipeline close by, to which he had attached two wires to increase our house's electrical power, when the water flowed.

Somehow, the two wires got damaged. There were cracks in the outer shells which my father never got around to fixing. While washing the dishes at night, I would sometimes accidentally come into contact with the pipeline and quickly have to jerk my hand away due to the electrical shock I received.

"Get in there!" I said, pointing to the large white metal tub which I had dragged out earlier and laid in the shade of the kitchen' s awning. The tub was very light, but it was large enough for both of us to bathe in at the same time, which is what we usually did.

As the water fell on him he shivered and cried out excitedly. The moment I filled the tub, he started splashing water all around. Kids! I too stripped off my clothes and jumped into the tub, not minding a little cool bath to get away from the hot air.

Then the electrical current hit my body in full force.

Not being able to move or speak, I felt so helpless. I knew my brother was in trouble. But it was as if we were in a pitch dark room and I was running around blindly in search of him, unable to find him. In my mind I could hear him calling my name, but he was nowhere in sight, even though we were only few inches apart.

I wanted so desperately to cry out: "Help us! Help us, please!"

But my mouth couldn't form the words. It was frozen. Yet, inside my head, the words screamed as loud as thunder and erupting volcanoes combined - so loud that I thought my head was going to burst.

I felt trapped. But who would help me? Where were my parents when I needed them most? Where was my brother? In my mind, I silently began to cry like I had never cried before.

I was so scared. If anything happened to my brother, my father was going to kill me.

My head was now spinning wildly. Before my eyes everything was empty and blank. The blankness was so white and smooth, it was unreal as well as terrifying. Suddenly, a heavy blackness came over me. It was as if a mountain had been placed on top of my chest and I was falling down into a bottomless pit. Then everything was still and I could feel nothing.

In Vietnam, people live closely together and look after each other, especially when someone has children home alone. It was then that my father' s godmother, who lived next door and had heard our cries, decided to check on us. Looking down from her balcony, she saw that we were in danger and called to other neighbors for help.

Some men tried to climb over the barbed wire fence my father had put up to keep thieves out, but the rescuers had to give up. The fence was tearing their clothes to pieces. They hurriedly ran up the stairs leading to my father's godmother's balcony and jumped over to ours. When the men got inside the house, three of them each grabbed a long piece of wood stacked in the corner and used it to pull us out.

Later that day, I awoke in a hospital bed, confused and wondering what had happened. Upon hearing my mother' s voice, I turned and saw her walking into the room with a cup of water. Just then, I noticed my brother too. He was sitting on a bed covered in white sheets, heartily eating an orange.

All of a sudden I felt very angry. How could he sit there chewing on an orange as if he didn't have a care in the world, when only a short while ago I was scared to death for his life. I fully intended to give him a scolding for the trouble he caused me, when I heard my mother call my name.

"Yen, my precious." There was a smile on her face. She had the most beautiful smile, this mother of mine.

"I see that you are finally awake," she said as she put the cup on the table beside my bed and sat down beside me. "Look at your brother, Yen. He was awake long before you." And again she smiled.

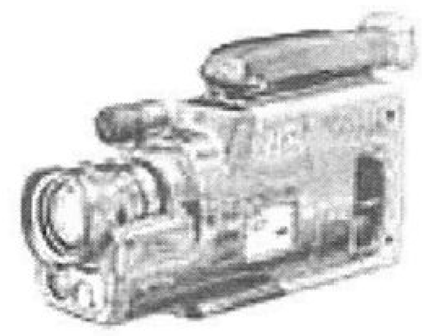

How could my mother say that? I wanted to say something to defend myself, but could only mumble the words: "Mother, my head hurts!"

Surveillance Cameras in the Halls are Our Friends

By Kulsoom Anwer
A.K.A. Komrade Kasporov

This year, an extensive and high-tech surveillance camera system was installed at Westview. Contrary to the ignorant but popular belief of jealous other high schools, it is not because our school population consists of dangerous offenders. It' because of the one million dollars worth of computers and equipment Westview is receiving. Yeah, well sure, no one's actually seen these computers but they're coming, of course. The Administration said so and their word is their bond.

It may just be that in addition to ensuring the safety of our very expensive computer equipment, these cameras have other uses. Here's some ideas.

They could be part of an elaborate scheme to embarrass us all, engineered by the evil geniuses at Candid Camera. When they say, "Smile! You're on Candid Camera!", you can bet Ms. Twohig won't be smiling. Maybe Mr. Henkle will be though.

Or maybe they're part of a CNN exposé hoping to expose us exposing things we don't want exposed. Maybe they want to get proof that actual learning at the average high school is random and accidental and that the only difference between a classroom and the donut shop is the teacher weeping in the corner.

We won't draw parallels with the word of the world of the novel '1984' because no one has probably read the Young Driver's Handbook, let alone the works of George Orwell.

Maybe the cameras were the Board of Education's brainchild. It could be their little way of saying, "Our trust in you is enormous, keep up the good work, Westview." We believe that when they stop using the Club when they bring their cars here.

It could be the drama department consisting of one guy (let's keep up that enthusiastic support of the arts!) felt that if there were cameras on us, we would be encourage to display our dramatic sides. This may not have been wise; visual and literary arts have suffered. The glory of graffiti is ours no more. We cannot ignore this. Without graffiti the amount of reading students do has dropped alarmingly. If they stop writing on cereal boxes, literature will be totally eliminated from the lives of our students.

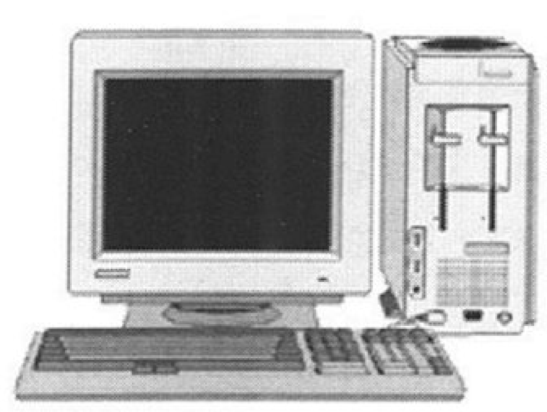

Whatever they are used for, it is obvious these cameras are the instruments of good, not evil. Surveillance is good, comrades, free speech bad. Scratch that last part. It is the people's will that we all adjust to the cameras and unite to fight our capitalist oppressors and leave the ground red with their blood. Scratch that last part too.

Anyway, next time you come face to face with a camera, look right at that unblinking, mechanical eye, and smile and wave. It is your friend, or should we say? Big Brother.

Westview: The Little Technological World

By Shelliza Khan

COMPUTERS! COMPUTERS! COMPUTERS! They seem to be taking over Westview in the last couple of months. Pretty soon there will be more computers than students. More and more students are using computers to help them with their school work and many students are also making use of the Internet to gather information from around the world.. One student says, "Using the Internet has allowed me to research my home country Vietnam and other countries that I didn't know of such as Australia and Japan."

While some students are happy that Westview has purchased new computers, other students are feeling terrified. Michelle, a grade nine student is afraid of the computers. Just looking at them makes her sweat. Michelle states, "The new computers mean I will have to learn how to use then and I don't know anything about computers. I don't even know how to turn one on."

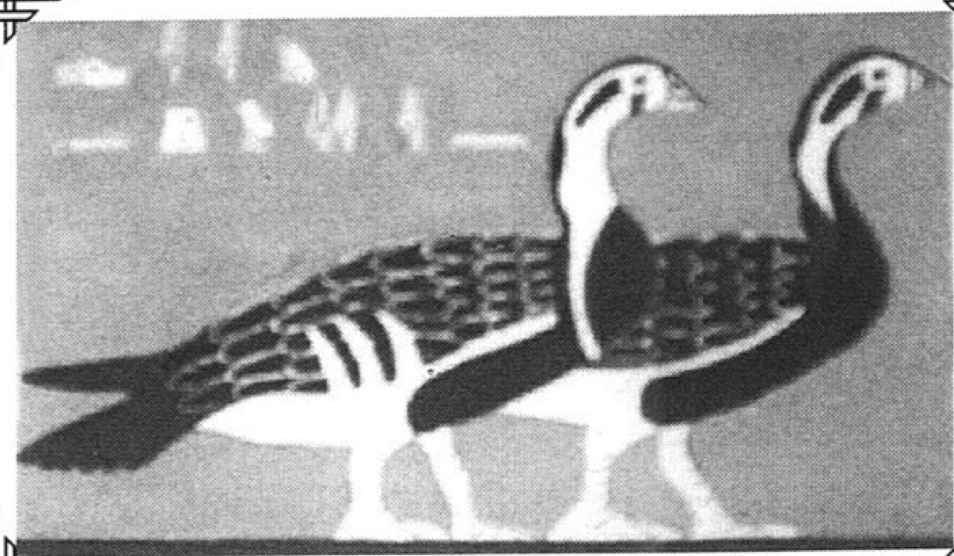

An anonymous student who refuses to disclose his identity declares computers are addictive and dangerous to our health. "I think people are depending too much on technology and are forgetting how to think. They are letting the computers do the thinking for them. Sooner or later, our knowledge will vanish and we will all dissolve into thin air and the only thing that will remain is all that technological junk."

Other students like Maria (not her real name) feels everyone should learn how to use computers. "I think computers are very important and if you want to be successful in your future career, you should definitely know how to operate one because computers are related to a lot of jobs."

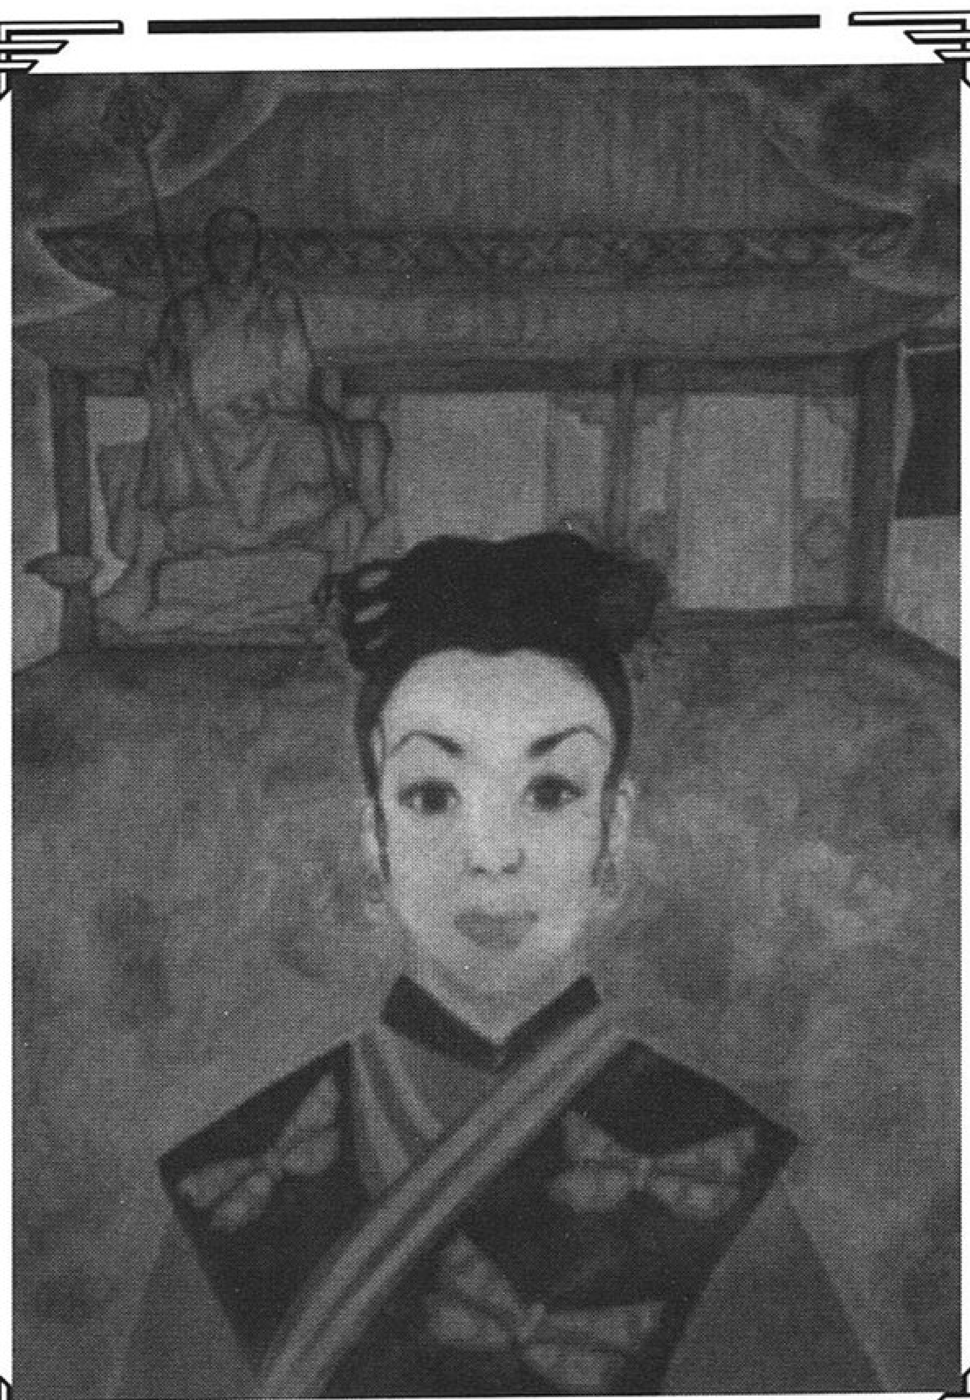

And the question everyone wants to know, do computers really change the way you learn at school? David, a grade ten student answers this, "Yes, I think computers actually make you want to learn more. It is more fun researching something on the Internet than reading it from the textbook because the Internet offers you a variety of articles and the articles are also updated unlike your textbook."

Well it sees Westview is heading in the right direction by exposing students to computers at a young age and someday the computer skills these students learn now will be an advantage to them when they enter the competitive job market

I'LL BE THERE

I'll be there
When you need a friend
To care and give advice
I'll be there
To lend a hand
To make a sacrifice
I'll be three
To enjoy your days
And help you through the nights
I'll be there
For always
To make wrongs be right
I'll be there
When you're feeling down
And need a shoulder to cry on
I'll be there
To erase your frown
Someone you can rely on
I'll be there
Is all I can say
To show you how I feel
I'll be there
Everyday
To prove my love's for real.

JUST ANOTHER NIGHT

Smile when the sun shines bright,
Cry when your heart
is broken twice,
Drop cold but not frozen from your words
that took away my life,
Dreaming away as my mind goes blank,
Thinking of you breaks
me from inside,
Broken not once but twice,
My heart cannot be replaced tonight.

CROWN OF THORNS

So I'm told to leave my world behind
And I gave it some thought
Throw the drugs away I bought
I'm told to leave my narrow path
To take a straight walk down
I don't wanna leave this town
I don't believe that you could love me
But somewhere I read it in a book
Stole the time away I took
A crown of thorns I was forced to wear
You let me walk this lonely road
But I have no choice but to serve you
And I've never met the day
So, so long to all my joy
For you I'll take it all away
For the burden that you've paid
I'm tired of love they say it is with you
But I'm still in an empty place
My emotions have been cased
I sing those songs to praise your name
But your name is scaring me.

By Keith Perera

HUSHED LOVE

I don't really know you
I don't know your name
But one thing I'm sure of
Our dreams are the same
You don't really take much
But neither do I
It seems that we're both
Just a little bit shy
Whenever I see you
It's hard not to stare
Your eyes tell me secrets
Of how much you care
There's a certain expression
Which I'm sure you've heard
It says that actions
Speak louder than words.

A GRADUATION FAREWELL

Today you have accomplished an important achievement
You have proved that you have the power to succeed.
The diploma you carry in your hand
Is only a piece of paper, but a very valuable one.
It represents the number of years of hard work,
Your loyal commitment to the school,
Your responsibility to learn new skills and concepts,
And your dedication to achieve your own personal goals.

Now think back when you first started school.....
It seems like a long time ago, but it was only a couple of years.
Your were uneasy and unsure of the path that was ahead of you.
However, you manage to seek help from you loyal friends,
The patient counsellors, the caring teachers and the friendly staff.
In return you need to thank each of them for helping you.
And most important of all, do not forget your loving family
Who supported and encourage you to learn.

Now it is time for you to move on...
Your future ahead of you looks pleasant and rewarding,
Provided that you continue your steps to success:
Set your personal goals and accomplish them one at a time.
You may not accomplish all, but at least you tried your best.
Wherever you go, whether it is university, college or work,
I wish you success in your future career and most important of all
I hope you have an enjoyable life filled with happiness
And love along with good health and prosperity.

In Memory of Terry McIntyre

WALK SLOWLY

If you should go before me, dear, walk slowly
Down the ways of death, well-worn and wide,
For I would want to overtake you quickly
And seek the journey's ending by your side.

I would be so forlorn not to descry you
Down some shining highroad when I came;
Walk Slowly, dear, and often look behind you
And Pause to hear if someone calls your name.

WHEN LIFE'S DAY CLOSES

When on my day the evening shadows fall,
I will go down to where a quiet river flows
Into a sea from whence no man returns;
And there embark for lands where life immortal grows.

HE IS NOT DEAD

I cannot say, and I will not say
That he is dead. He is just away.
With a cherry smile, and a wave of the hand,
He has wondered into a an unknown land.
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since he lingers there.
And you--oh, you, who the wildest yearn
For and old-time step, and the glad return,
Think of him fearing on, as dear
I'm the love of There as the love of Here.
Think of him still as the same. I say,
He is not dead--he is just away.

WORDS OF WISDOM...

Marks of Maturity

Mature is he, who is patient, who is willing to give up immediate pleasure in favour of the long-term gain.

Mature is he, who has the ability to settle differences without resentment or anger.

Mature is he, who knows that life is too short to be wasted in prejudice, intolerance, hatred and revenge.

Mature is he, who has the capacity to face disappointments and adversity with out becoming bitter.

Mature is he, who is human, and who responds to the needs of others with compassion.

Mature is he, who has the humility to say I was wrong and the self-control not to say "I told you so" when he is proved right.

Mature is he, who lives in the present without being shackled by the dead past or the unborn future.

Mature is he, who strives to change things which he can and he who lives in peace with things he cannot.

Mature is he, who gently and constantly questions himself, "Am I mature?"

BEFORE YOU SPEAK, LISTEN.
BEFORE YOU WRITE, THINK.
BEFORE YOU SPEND, EARN.
BEFORE YOU RETIRE, SAVE.
BEFORE YOU CRITICIZE, WAIT.
BEFORE YOU QUIT, TRY.
BEFORE YOU PRAY, FORGIVE.
BEFORE YOU DIE, GIVE.

To Risk

To laugh is to risk appearing the fool. To weep is to risk being called sentimental. To reach out to another is to risk involvement. To expose feelings is to risk showing your true self. To place your dreams before a crowd is to risk being called naive. To love is to risk not being loved in return. To live is to risk dying. To hope is to risk despair, and to try is to risk failure.

But risks must be taken, because the greatest risk in life is to risk nothing. The person who risks nothing, does nothing, and becomes nothing. He may avoid suffering and sorrow, but he simply cannot learn, feel, change, grow, love, and live. Chained only by his certitute's, he is a slave, he's forfeited his freedom. For only the person who risks is truly free.

Student Council:
Hard Working Representatives or Scamming Scoundrels?

Student Council, despite its name, is a mystery to most students in Westview. Who are these people who organize dances, sell candygrams and bootleg liquor? What motivates them to lead, inspire and embezzle? Let's take a look at the average Westview student council's components.

The Staff Advisor: That the majority of these teachers are recruits from the notoriously deprived science department says quite enough. Bourbon keeps them honest; or so the evidence usually found in their car, brief case and desk, implies. They usually keep a copy of the Penal Code handy and are prone to spontaneous fits of crying. They are not invited to staff parties. Their pain is vast and inscarable. Pity them.

The President: The Prez is usually charismatic and charming but doesn't actually know what's going on. However, he/she always has a nice smile and good posture. They generally adapt one of two styles; either they pretend to know what's going on and assign endless, inexplicable tasks to the secretary, or keep asking, "What's going on" Huh? What's going on?" This second style is very stressful; neurosis is a side-effect.

The Vice-President: The Vice is generally a schmoozer. He/she gets the deal on the deal on the dance hall, the chocolate, the philly. He knows 'guys who knows guys' and he always 'takes care of it'. Never ask the Vice for a 'favour'.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Treasurer: The money-man also gets things done. He/she is usually exceptionally well dressed and carries a lot of cash that he/she throws around, though of course it's not what you think. He/she probably has a paper route or something. Don't be alarmed if the treasurer drives numerous cars. It's all legal.

The Social Convenor: Nobody understands the many different kinds of Convenors Westview has had. Don't try to.

The Secretary: The secretary is usually some screwball grade eleven who represents his/her title. Some of them do take notes but most spend their time insisting they're just as important as everyone else. This position is usually a stepping stone to bigger and better things. Or nothing. Take your pick.

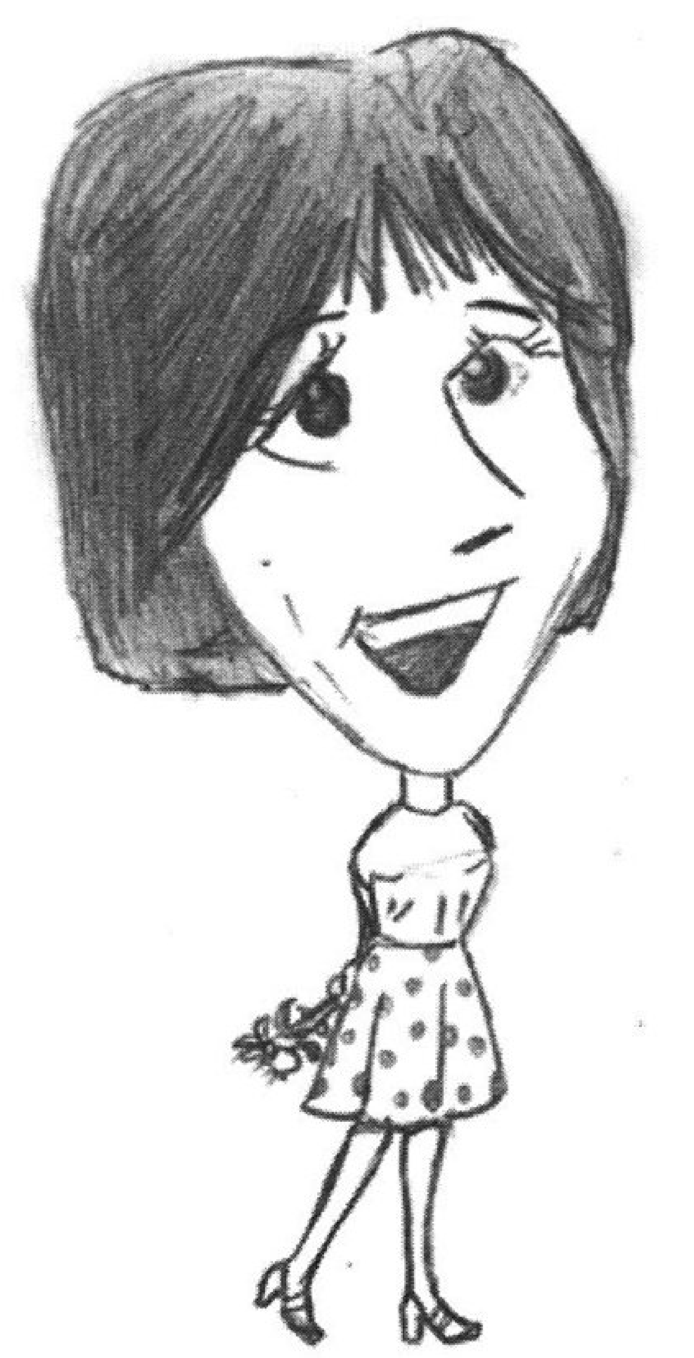

The Groupies: Among the perks of student council are fast cars, hard drinking and groupies. Groupies are useful for menial tasks and adulation. However, they can get bitter and then the whole operation goes down. Hell hath no fury like a groupie scorned. They have more power than the whole council; they should be treated with respect and never, never, never call them groupies.

The Insider: Does this guy exist? Some say no, but his/her fingerprints have been on many things (though never the murder weapon). He's out there alright. He is someone constantly seen with council members and they often look.........uncomfortable. He has no official position on council but wields way too much power for the comfort of democracy.

Disclaimer: The character composite of student council position types bear no resemblance to any actual student council members living or dead. So tell Vito to get off my back, okay, Mr. Vice-President? That dead horse thing was not funny.

Another Successful Year...

This year, Westview's Student Council once again had another successful year. In fact, they were able to arrange a little more than last year's group. Some of the highlights throughout the year includes a successful in-school dance which never happened in Westview for over 5 years. This was followed by Westview's 2nd annual Semi-Formal. This event saw approximately 180 people attend the dance which bet last year's crowd by 60 people.

With the success of these events and many more, student council has gained a reputation of getting things done for the school. Their hard work and intelligent ideas have paved a way for future council members. It is now up to them to raise Westview's spirit to another level. And there is no doubt in the minds of Westview students that this level can and will be achieved.

SPECIAL THANKS

What can we say? If you're reading this, then the yearbook actually went to press and printed out. To be honest though, there were times when we believed Westview wouldn't have a yearbook this year. A lot of credit must be given to the young men and women who helped us along the way with their devoted time and help. You guys know who you are and thanks again. Furthermore, we would like to thank administration for their support througout the year. You believed in us and it was what made this possible. We hope you will continue to support future yearbook projects. Thanks!

A little word of advice to the people working on the yearbook next year. Start early and get lots of help. 'Cause you're gonna need it!! And remember:

Destiny is not a matter of chance, it is a matter of choice;
it is not thing to be waited for, it is a thing to be achieved.

OBITUARY

Terry Paul St. David McIntyre was born on June 17th, 1979 in Westmoreland Jamaica. He is the second of four children by Angela Perrin.

His early years from birth to eight years were spent in Jamaica. He then emigrated to Canada with his brother Kenton to join their mother.

Schools Terry attended in Canada were J.B. Public School, Crawford Academy, Brookview Middle School and Westview Centennial Secondary School.

Terry Paul St. David McIntyre

June 17th, 1979 - February 27th, 1997

At Westview, Terry quickly gained the reputation as a very outstanding basketball player. He was affectionately nicknamed "Drexler". He was also a very successful track star in his school team and the Flying Angel teams. Terry was a very studious scholar with admirable dedication, arriving at school at 7:00am and leaving at 5:30pm in order to get extra work done. He was admired and respected by teachers and students alike.

Terry accepted Christ as his personal Saviour and Lord and was baptized April 30th, 1978 and accepted into the Bethel Church Family. He was a dedicated Christian, always willing to give advice and witnessing for Christ among his peers. Terry was loved as a son and a good friend by many at Bethel. He will be missed for his infectious smile and warm hugs.

Terry's spiritual life took a positive turn during the Free at Last Crusade by Pastor King a year ago. He was very active in church with a willingness to participate in all the activities of the church.

On the 11th of December 1996, Terry was diagnosed with Cancer. On January 12th, 1997, he left for Florida to seek treatment. The treatment was successful but the Lord saw it fit to give him rest. He went to sleep with the Lord on February 27th, 1997.

Terry has left behind his parents Clive and Angela Perrin, father David McIntyre, brothers Kenton and Mark, sister Tennisha, grandmother Angeleta Duhaney, aunts Portia, Clover, Maxine, Hope, Soronto and Enez, uncle Insp. Delroy Hewitt, many cousins and all of his other relatives and friends.
